

Move on Up Transition Games

Aimhigher West Midlands have been working to create a sustainable, online resource to support year 6 pupils with the sometimes difficult transition period from primary to secondary school. We know that making a successful transition is fundamental for children to excel in secondary school and subsequently progress to Higher Education and/or meaningful employment.

Our suite of free, fun and interactive games gently introduces the changes that pupils will face as they embark on their journey, alleviating some of the common concerns about secondary school and showcasing the wide range of extracurricular opportunities available to them.

The games are designed to make the children feel excited about their future and encourage them to work hard.
